

Labdoo KM0

What it is

Labdoo KM0 is a workflow inside the Labdoo platform exclusively dedicated to helping that neighbor right next to you that is severely affected by the digital divide.

Why it exists

Planet earth is giving us signals: our current way of living is not sustainable. In 2020 humanity has fought to flatten the curve of a pandemic. It's now time to work together to flatten the much larger curve of climate change. At Labdoo, we believe that such challenge will require changing our way of living, moving from an economy fueled by ever increasing consumption, to a society where the circular economy sits at the center of its logistical system.

Labdoo KM0 is one of the workflows implemented by the Labdoo platform designed to operate locally at a global scale. The objective of this program is to eradicate the digital divide found in our neighbor communities by delivering educational laptops using Labdoo's circular economy.

The Outcome

Labdoo KM0 provides a very simple process that anyone can do. In just four hours of your time, you can change the life of a child and help significantly reduce the effects of climate change. Every time you recycle a laptop and give it to a needy child, you are:

- Creating an incredible educational opportunity to that child.
- Helping to flatten the climate change curve by reducing 18.59 Kgms of CO2 every time you rescue a laptop.

How it works

Step 1. Collect an unused laptop.

Odds are that you know someone who has an unused laptop, even you may have one. The first step is to collect this laptop and tag it in the Labdoo platform.

Step by step Instructions: [\[click here\]](#)

Step 2. Sanitize the laptop.

Clean up the laptop and install the Labdoo OS, a powerful software package that includes between 30GB and 200GB of educational content, including the full Wikipedia, all the Khan Academy videos, and many more.

Step by step instructions: [\[click here\]](#)

Step 3. Deliver the laptop.

Everyone knows somebody who is a severely affected by the digital divide. Find a project where you can contribute your sanitized laptop(s) and deliver it in person. This is the most rewarding step in the full chain of actions. Enjoy the most unique and amazing human feeling of giving happiness to another human being!

Step by step instructions: [\[click here\]](#)