I write on behalf of Adiembra Community Youth to sincerely express our thanks and appreciation to labdoo group of donor-partners for the donation of laptops and desktop computers for the support of the formation and education of the youth of St. John The Baptist in Adiembra.

As young people of our time and age we are committed to studying what is happening around the globe and to contribute our quota to help improve our academic and moral environment.

Kindly allow us to say a very big thank you to the entire labdoo group of donor-partners for the immense support of information and communication technology materials we have received from you. We are very grateful and may God richly bless your effort as you continue to put smiles on the faces of people across the globe.
