

KATONDO COMBINED SCHOOL

Katondo Combined School is a school in the Copperbelt province of Zambia. It is located in Bwana Mkubwa in Ndola district.

The school was built in the year 1951. The first Headteacher was Mr A Kaonde. The school is on two separate plots, the primary section and the secondary section.

Initially the buildings were a prison. It was called Katondo Prison and it happened that our first republican President Dr Kenneth Kaunda was temporarily jailed there for one year.

However due to growing population, the prison was made into a learning institution now called Katondo Combined School.

The school has 18 classrooms and one early childhood learning room. It runs from early childhood Education to grade 12. The total number of learners is 2034, 1033 girls and 1001 boys.

The table below shows the population of learners by grade and gender:

GRADE	BOYS	GIRLS	TOTAL

12	31	42	73
TOTAL	1001	1033	2034

MEMBERS OF STAFF

The school has 47 subject teachers and 6 auxiliary staff. Amongst these only two are trained ICT teachers against a population of 649 learners that need computer lessons, which is a big challenge.

COMPUTER LAB

The school has no computer laboratory but has turned one classroom into a computer laboratory. If possible, we would like a computer laboratory constructed.

There are only 4 computers hence making the teaching of ICT very difficult. Therefore, teachers teach more theory than practical, therefore we are asking for if we can be assisted with 40 computers.

We will write to you an e-mail on how to go about with tax -waiver as guided by our government.
